

LEMNA INTERNATIONAL PRESENTS THE LEMNA AMERICAN UNIVERSITY PREPARATORY ACADEMY

Abeokuta, Nigeria—Lemna International has built a world-class preparatory academy designed to prepare college-bound Nigerian students to gain admission to the finest American universities. The Lemna American University Preparatory Academy (LAUPA), which will be admitting its first class of students in October of 2008, delivers a well-rounded curriculum of Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) practice, Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) practice, guidance counseling, visa workshops, and cultural assimilation training. This academy will be the first of its kind in Nigeria, intended to alter the way students approach university admissions.

LAUPA aims to be much more than simply a school – it will become an experience. Students will live at the picturesque campus in Abeokuta, minutes away from the bustling Lagos metropolis, within an academic community that will support them throughout the process of college acceptance. The Lemna American University Preparatory Academy teachers will be of the highest caliber the US has to offer, and will be able to provide both instruction and guidance to their students.

Ms. Tina Freeman, Dean of LAUPA, added, “The way to make Nigeria the best that it can be is by preparing students for leadership and greatness. This comes through the highest quality education.”

This project underscores Lemna’s mission of development in West Africa because it provides vital capacity building that will in time enable Nigeria to produce a motivated new generation of leaders.
